WE ARE AUTHORIZED TO AN-NOUNCE THE Hon. NAT. WOLFE AS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN THIS DISTRICT AT THE ENSUING AUGUST ELECTION

Kentneky just now, as ever, is giving cousiderable trouble to the radicals East. II. G., of the New York Tribune, has found it necessary to write another letter upon the iniquitous manner in which Louisville overturned its candidate for the Mayoralty, and Is also alarmed at the "sudden and strangely altered tone of the Louisville Democrat." He thinks it bodes no good for the Union. Upon this point we decidedly demnr. It will do a great deal of good for the Union but very little for Abolition. We have not come to the belief that the two terms are synouymous yet, although Greeley can console himself that the radicsis of this State agree with him, and pronounce every one who refuses men and money for Abolition purposes, a Secessionist.

What Juzzles and eurages the Northern Ab litionists most, is the want of influence their plans have in this State. Alter writing, ssionarying, crusading, and, finally, after direct war, they find the State entirely un shaken-still devoted to her rights as a State, and as ready to fight for them in the Union as when, in 1798, she drove back the tide of Federal usurpation. The Tribune accounts for this in the past :

Kentucky stands forth a solitary and melan-choly exception. Her leading Union politi-cians and journalists have been inten-throughout on running a race with the robels throughout on running a race with the rebels for the favor of the alaveholding interest—a race in which they must inevitably be beaten. Great wisdom and prudence are required to extract this State from the false position wherein she has been placed, which has rendered her to-day the least hearthly loyal of all the States that nominally adhere to the Union. How could it be otherwise, when the Union journals are filled with the coarseat abuse of the President and of the great body of his supporters, and filled with the coarsest abuse of the President and of the great body of his supporters, and when the foremost among them openly councels the suppression by violence of any Republican paper that may be started in the State? But Messrs, John Morgan, Humphrey Marshall, Forrest, Cluke, done-most efficient aposities of the anti-slavery gospel—have done good work in Kentucky, and are lutent on doing more. Thousands listen perforce to their demonstrations, who stubbornly close their cars to infleer personations. Kentucky is visibly improving, and will in time be right.

The Tribune meed not descair any more

The Tribune need not despuir any more. There was a large convention of office-kolders and office-seekers in this city on the 18 h cf March, which steadily voted down everything that censured the President, and would not allew his most flagrant acts of neurpation to be mentioned but in the most del cate iusinuations of disapproval. It was rose-water rebukes. The President was pelted with resebuds. Under language thus mitdly disap proving, the truth appeared that they rather liked the President's usurpations. We surose this is what the Tribune means by "vielbly Improving." It has a party now in this State running with full vigor (a the Abolition ticket, though it wears the colors of the Union, but we warn the editor that his hopes are de ceptive. The Louisville election was ominous. We read of a Frenchman once who, by gradual means, had reduced his horse to one straw a day. Nothing but the sudden death of the animal prevented his accomplishing the wonderful teat of havlng learned to live without food. The Tribune had better take warning. Its party in this State has come to the last straw, and by August next will be as deal as Pharaoh, from the want of voters if not candidates. If John Morgau & Co. have injured the pro-slavers sentiment in this State, the Tribune can rest assured that it, and just such papers as it, have more than recompensed it. The Abolitionists in and cut of Kentucky will always be able to more than make amends for any injury that may be done to the peculiar institution by the

Messrs. J. E. Newman, Wm. J. Heady and J. P.

Barbour:

Gentlemen: Upon my return home on the S.h., I received your letter, informing me that I had been nominated by the Union party of the Fifth District as a candidate for Congress. This is a position which I did not seek, and not only feel the honor but its responsibility. There are crises in the history of all free Governments when the citizen is not at liberty to refuse his scrylees to the Republic. The present is one of that character; and as my fellow-citizens have called upon me, I do not feel at liberty to decline the responsibility assigned.

The time between this and the election The time between this and the election (20th of June), my own concilion, the iliness and sfliction of my family, will prevent me from making a carvass through the district. The people know me and trust me as their representative. Of one thing they may be assured, that I shall not falter in efforts to obtain those constitutional gnarantees necessary to the present and future security of the slave States. I shall do so with confident hope of success?

I shall support every henorable and just measure which shall have for its object the termination of the present war between the North and South. I shall advocate a cessation of hostilites and the calling of a National Convention as the best, if not the only, means of a peaceful solution of the issues involved.

It is known that I have leading to hard to hadron. There will be but little, if any, opposition to the bill, as its propriety is generally conceded. But another bill, to restrict withla limits, more narrowed than those of the former year, the planting of cotton, will be carnestly opposed by the Representatives from a peaceful solution of the issues involved.

It is known that I have labored to induce Kentucky to remain in the Union and take no active part in this fratricidal war. These exertions shall not be relaxed.
It has been charged that this war has been inaugurated by the United States for the purpose of crushing and subjugating the slave States. This charge is not true. I was opposed to its commencement for any purpose. It was commenced by South Carolina and the sceeded States by various acts of open hostility—by the seizare of the forts, arsenals, navy yarge, custombouses, milute, money, and pary yards, custombouses, inline, money, and property of the United States by armed force property of the United States by armed force. After the capture of Fort Sumpter the whole military force of the South was turned toward Washington City, with the declarations made by the officers and representative men of the Confederate States, that their purpose and object was the selzure and occupation of Washington City, and the overthrow of that Government founded by Washington and his compations—the best Government over formed by man.

to see, can now be willing to witness with In-difference, the efforts of the Southern Con-federacy, to take possession of or destroy the Capital of the natior, and destroy that Gov-ernment, which has protected its citizens at home and abroad. Was it wrong to resist this home and abroad. Was it wrong to resist this determined and avowed purpose of the Confederated men of the South? That Capital must be protected and our Government preserved. It is not "Lincoln's Government, but the Government of the people—the Government of the United Sentes—that I am actious to preserve from destruction.

I wish to be distinctly understeed upon this subject. Should the present war assume the purpose and design of the abolition of slavery in the States, or of depriving a State of any constitutional right, it will receive no support from me of either men or money; on the contrary, my firm and decided opposition. So trary, my firm and decided opposition. So long as it may be necessary to keep up an army in the field to defend the Capital and preserve the Gevernment from the assaults of its comiles, foreign or domestic, it must be sustained.

I do not deem it necessary that, in this reply, I should say more. Of one thing my fellow-citiz ms may rest assured—that, if elected, my constant efforts will be devoted to the ion of peace and the maintenance the Urion.

Respectfully, your obedient servant, C. A. Wickliffs.

An Insight into Rebeldom. We have before no quite a number of artlele ellpped from late Southern papers, which give an insight somewhat into rebeldom. We propose to extract the gist of them ali: The Chattanooga Rehel expresses the utmost anxiety about the campaign in Tennessec, and urges upon the Confederate authorities the importance of speedily re-enforcing General Bragg with twenty or thirty thousand men, that he may at once institute a decisive movement against General Rosecrans. Jefferson Davis 'has his eye on Tennessee," but that will not, of itself, effect the release of the State from Federal authority. There will be but little, if any, opthe southwestern portion of Georgia, who hold that the three acres allowed by the las year are, in many cases, already np, and tha it would be upjust and unconstitutional to employ class legislation against those who have not planted their cotton. But the Intelligeneer thinks that, despite all representations and remonstrances, the importance of securing plenty of bread beyond the smallest contingency will override all other considerations and the bill will pass. The great measure of the session, in the Georgia Legislature, is the subject of indorsing the Confederate loan. The Committee, consisting of twelve, have re ported; upon a vote of eight to four, in favor of the measure. The Intelligencer is unable, how ever, to predict the fate of the measure, but im plores the legislators to "hesitate long before they commit the State to a measure so sui

The Intelligencer charges the anti Brown party with a factious opposition to the true interests of Georgia and the Confederacy The Legislature will adopt the bill indorsing the Confederate honds, and "shove upon Jo. Brown the responsibility of vetoing it." The Intelligencer says that the reasons against the indorsement bill are simply these:

The proposed indorsement is not necessary as an aid to the Confederacy; that it would not improve the Confederacy; that it would not improve the Confederacy; that it would not improve the Confederacy; that it would them to the common level in that perticular—which would be highly injurious to such a state as Georgia, and unjust to her bond-holders; that it would separate the debt making and the debt paying responsibility; that it would thus encourage the most reckless expenditure by the Congress; and that it would be a glaring and teo gress; and that it would be a glaring and teo gress; and that it would be a glaring and teo gress temperature to refer the Confederacy and to layer reconstruction.

The Proposed United States Bank Currency-Hands Off. Several banks are organizing under the late

United States Bank law, and the probability is that, the notes will soon appear among us, ompeting with the notes of other banks and with treasury notes. Before these notes appear, it is right and proper that the people should consider well in what manner they should be received. We have carefully considered the subject in all its bearings, regardng both public and private advantage, and for the following among other reasons we advise our friends to have nothing to do with them:

1. The circulation of these notes must be njurlous to the interests of the Government and consequently to the interests of the people. Every dollar of these notes which you receive is a loan of that amonut to the bank without interest, and it seems to ne that any loval man who has money to lend without in terest world rather lend it' to the Government by taking treasury notes than to a bankng corporation hy taking its notes. This new circulation is for the purpose of displacng the treasury notes now ln nse, and which, o the full amount of their circulation, is a can from the holders to the Government without Interest, and for compelling the Government to pay interest, and enabling bankers procure their means without.

2. These new United Bank notes cauot possibly be any safer than treasury notes, or the reason that they are required to redeem their Issues in treasury notes, or, in the words of the law, "in lawful money of the United States." It a man who has these hank notes desires their redemptlou, he can get only treasury notes, which he had better have recelved in the first place and saved trouble.

3. These new bank notes will be in great langer of depreciation, like other stock-bank They will be issued from differnotes. ent polnts; efforts will, no doubt, be made to give them circulation in places as remote as possible from the place of issue, and their standing will depend upon the contingency that the people and bankers will receive them as readily as other funds. In case one of the banks fails, the others will be all measureably discredited, and the danger will he that, In au emergency, the holder may be compelled to ell theiu at any discount that a Shylock might

4 The Government is not hound to redeem hese notes in case of a failure of any of these banks, as most people are led erroneously to uppose, but, atter a course of litigation, the oank is wound up, and time afforded the offieer of the Treasury to seil the bonds placed in the hands of the Government as security for liese notes; a distribution is made to the ote-holders to the full amount, unless the onds shall chance to be depreciated, in which case the holder will have to take less.

5. The issue of these new United States bank notes does not, as has been alleged, tend o prevent au over-issue of paper currency, as must be evident to any one who will take the rouble to use a little arithmetic. Suppose a bank, having a million in greenbacks, pays hem into the Treasury and receives a million iu six per cent. bends and receives a million n notes for circulation; if the bank succeeds in getting these notes into circulation, the urrency will ohviously be the same in amount as before; and it is to be presumed that vigorous endeavors will he made to get as many of them among the people as possible. It is clear, then, that, in order to prevent that reduadancy of the currency so much deprecated by the learned writers on finance, every ment.

S. That we cannot regard the Constitution

S. That we cannot regard the Constitution these new United States bank notes from of talning circulation. 6. The greatest evils arise from a reduudancy of currency, when that currency has een loaned out to the people, instead of being paid out for something the people had to sell. and, on this account, if no other, the circulation of these new bank ustes should be discouraged at the outset, and for all time.

7. It is to be expected that some of these banks, lu order to discredit the treasury uotes and the issues of other banks, and thus give currency to their own lesues, will early attempt specie payments, which may coutinue only so long as may suit their own couvenience -they may pay specie to day, and pay treasary notes to-morrow. This course would only injure the Government currency, create confusion and throw business into the hauds of brokers and speculators, without being of any appreciable advantage to the public.

8. These new banks have not laid the peopie under any obligations to them by engaglog in this business. They have bought Govrnment honds, paying their interest in coin for their own benefit, and really without advautage to the Government, and they may as State had a right to secede, and if one seceded well stow their bouds away lu their vaults and close their banking shops to save expenses. They are getting six per ceut, interest from the people, twice as much as is pald by any other Government, without asking the people to loan them au equal amount without lu-

9. These notes, by not being a legal tender for debts, and not belog convertible into leterest-paying bonds, must be inferior to treasury notes. So soon as the masses of the people understand how their interests have been trifled with by this monstrons scheme-how they have been compelled to submit to au unnec essary increase of taxation, for the express pur pose of siding bankers to borrow mouey without interest- when they see the thing In or has been needed, for the Last Six or stand or has been needed, for the Last Six or stands foll enormity—that they have been sold seven months, at least, that fact is, and Prices for the uccessaries of life are running body and soul to the banks—that attempts HAS LONG BEEN, A GLARING ONE. - (Louisville have been made to prevent their loaning their money to their Government without Interest, as they had been freely doing, and as they had always douc before to the banks, and all under felse pretenses of preventing depreciation by reducing the amount ln circulation -that all the gold and silver at the command of the Government, and which should have to these bankers-when the people see all this, as they will see it, a voice will go up to Congress that will be understood and obeyed. Resolutions of the Ceneral Convention of Democrats and Rell Men. of Democrats and Bell Mcn.

1. Resolved, That the people of Kentucky place the highest estimate on the Union of these states on terms fair and just to all its members. It is a Union made and commended to us by our patriotic ancestors as a precious legacy to be preserved by their children; that it will not cost a tithe of the patriotism and forbearance to save it that it did our fathers to make it; that it affords us a better Government for people and liberty at home and defense

Are the Rebels Starving ? The Murfreesboro correspondent of the Chleago Times, writing on the 18th inst., says The bellef that the rebels are suffering from want of provisions, is one of the most absurd delusions of the eruzy abelition brain. Every one who comes into our lines does indeed relate a pitiful story of the condition of things in the Confederacy; but, so far as the want of the necessaries of life is concerned, the sconts, refugees, deserters and others all agree that the rehels have an abnulance of bacon mean the rehels have an abundance of bacon, meal, flour, &c. The Cen'c terate government have limmente store-houses filled with supplies for the use of the army, and every deserter says that the soldiers are ted upon wholesome diet. A day or two since, a Lieutenant in the 7th Pennsylvania cavalry, with thirty men, made a reconnoissance three miles beyond our outposts between the Shelbyville pike and the Middleton road. He was surprised to find a mill in full operation, grinding wheat and corn for the rebels. Several wagons loaded with newly ground flour and meal were just leaving the mill for the Confederate camp. Think of that—the rebels hauling subsistence to mean the mill was burned. The contrabands were brought lute cemp and delivered over to Capt. Mann, Provost Marshal of Col. Minty's staff. One of these negroes, a tall, thick-lipped Congo, expressed the reliefs have an abundance of bacon, ineal,

A NOVEL SOLUTION OF THE WAR.

Capt. Mann put the prisoner to a severe ex-mination. Who he belonged to, what he was loing at the mill, who ewned the wheat in the wagens, and similar questions were seked and auswered in turn, until the interrogatories assumed a political phase. The Prevost then inquired if there were any more negroes living in the vicinity of the mill.

"Oh, uo, massa," responded the darkey,
"dey's all gone sont."
"Are there any horses and mules thereabouts?" Inquired the Captain.
"Golly, de hosses an' mules done gone up "Golfy, de hosses an' mules done gone up long ago," replied the slave.
"Well, if the negroes and the horses and mnles are all gene, there must be nothing to fight for?" queried the Prevost.
"Oh, yessur, fight for de land," and the darkey griuned complacently, as though he had at last discovered the real object of the war.

"Fighting for the land" is certainly very good, and just about as near the true object of this war as the restoration of the Union.

THE BASES OF OPERATIONS .- The opposing forces are arranged as follows:

1. Gen. Lee confronts Major Gen. Hocker on the Rappahannock, and defends the approach-es to Richmond. 2. Gen. Besuregard commands the defenses at Charleston against Major Gen. Hunter's projected assanii.

3. Lieut, Gen. Bragz defendathe approaches Eset Tenacesce against Major Gen. Rosecrans army.

4. Lient. Gen. Pemberton is charged with the defence of the Mississippi river at Vicksburg, against the attack of Major Gen. Grant. These four are bases from which large sults are likely to he obtained. There are other minor ones, where smaller rmies operate, but they will partake more of the nature of predatory raids than regular campaign. In this category might be placed: 1. Lieut, Gen. D. H. Hill's and Major Gen ina. 2. Brig. Geu. Lee's and Major Gen. Banks' forces near Baton Rouge and Port Hudson; and 3. Lieut. Gen. Price's and Major Gen. Cartis' forces in Arkausas. The success or failure of each party ln hese minor fields will depend altogether upon Brazg has a large portion of his awn army, lately heavily re-enforced, in this vicinity, still leaving a heavy force (Polk's corps) at shelbyville. It has been stated that this array is, or was, entirely usprotected by in-tremelments, depending upon the advance posts for sufficient timely warning to them if necessary to thraw up temporary works should the enemy be successful in forcing those positions. It is also esserted that Bragg would rather that Koscerans should fight him in force at Chattenooga, far away from his base, that at either Tallahoma or Shelbyville. Therefore he has not fortified the positions to hay extent, with the purpose of tempti Resecrans to advance. All the males in contreen to sixty residing within reach Bragg's troops have been conscripted into being placed between veterans, and have actually to become veterans even before they have been raw recruits. The principal material used in the composition is wood dust, combined with other elements in such a way as to render it at first plastic, so that it can be molded into any form, and afterward so extremely solid as to be equal in strength, solidity and fineness of appearance to the choicest woods. The advantage of this material is, that it can be made to assume all sorts of lancy shapes—boxes and the like—be molded into carvings and other the like—be moided into carvings and other decorative appliances with very little tremble, and, therefore, at comparatively small expense. Chair-backs, picture frames, toys, fancy boxes and any of the smaller articles in the manufacture of which would be wised. facture of which wood is used, can be more elegantly made at less than half the price; in fact there is no reason why furniture should not be made by the same process.—[N. But tong before August the rivers will have fallen to low-water mark, giving us an open field in which to meet the enemy. I feel that I hazard very little inexpressing the confident belief that, before election day, we will have belief that, before exection day, we will have crushed or driven from our State the miserable mercenaries and vandals who have so long plundered and oppressed a blave, true and patriotic people, leaving every portion of the State free and nutrammeled in the exercise of the elective franchise. R. SECRANS' MOVEMENTS.—The movements of Rosecrars are watched at the present mement with greater interest than those of his predecessors elicited. We expressed the opinion, upon the reception of certain rumors of a retrograde movement on his part, that no such design was really meditated. It was barely possible that a junction with Grant and the zhandonment of Middle Tennessee might have crossed the willy brain of Rosecrans; but operations towards North Ahamm, via Columbia and Pulaski, were out of the nature of the case. There was a time when the possession of the territory merely conveyed an idea of subjugation; but that time has passed. Are the districts of Virginia, North Carolina, Lonisiana and this State subdued because they are even more [From the Chattanooga Rebel, April 2.] rmies operate, and upon which decisive reand this State subdued because they are occu-pied? On the contrary, they are even more loyal than ever. That period has been reached where nothing but the defeat of our armirs will effect anything for the cause of exterm-ination. Resecrans knows this full well. If he did not, an advance upon Huntsville would be still a military hexpedient. To effect the must carry the railroad literally on his back; that is, he must so reconstruct and protect it as he moves forward as to leave his rear in perfect railway communication. Can he do this? With twenty thousand more men he could be signally defeated. The war may as well be settled now as at any other time, for it must end some day.

Peace Propositions - We have seen no ontradiction of Mr. Vallaa ligham's statecontradiction of Mr. Vallaa ligham' mont, made in his Ohio speech, that-"On the 12th of 14st December, when from the city of Richmond Information came to the city of New York that there was a disposition city of New York that there was a disposition to compromise and return delegates to the national Congress, and be obedient to the Constitution and the laws, and thus restore the Union as it was, the President, on that day, rejected the proposition, and the damning evidence of rejection exists in New York, over his own autograph; but there is an obligation of scerecy at present, and the letter has not yet been given to the public."

The allegation is of grave importance in itself, and cannot be massed long in silence. If The allegation is of grave importance in itself, and cannot be passed long in silence. If true, a fearful responsibility will rest upon the President, not so much for rejecting the proposition as for concealing it. The fact that a penal law and an exclusive oath stood in the way of such delegation of members by the South, make the Secretary's proposition sufficiently a mackery, but it this statement be true that the President had refused to permit a return of Southern delegates fused to permit a return of Sonthern delegates fused to permit a return of Southern delegates to Congress, what becomes of even the pre-tenses of the letter!

For ourselves, we do not believe that form-all or efficial propositions have been made or rejected, as alleged, though we have no doubt that informal overtures towards peace, wer-thy of the consideration of the Government, have been disurteed by it. And we believe that, there is a party in the Administration which is opposed to a settlement, upon any which is opposed to a settlement upon any basis, even of submission, which implies a res-teration of the old Union and Constitution. April 12:

I send you with this a small rebel flag, made by the hauds of an accomplished Kentucky lady, and captured by the gallant Lieutenant Bacon, of Company E. The affair happened in this wise: When we first arrived here, the officers had no mess established, and consequently were obliged to seek entertainment smoog the different farm honses in the vicluity. Lieutenant B. took up his quarters at a fine old mansion occupied by a secesh family, in that family is a young lady with whom the ilcutenant is fast becoming well acquainted. On one occasion this little flag met the eye of the here, and, like a true Union man, he demanded its surrender. The lady refused at ce here, and, like a true Union man, he de-nunded its surrender. The lady refused at rst, but consented, on condition that the contenant should take her with the flag. As he flag was taken, you may draw your own one usion. The subject, however, is making ousiderable stir in the regiment, and may ead to serious results.

It has been the saving of much toil misery, and probably of life itself. The "Song of the Shirt" is now obsolete; the more enlivening ballad, "The Song of the Shirt" is now obsolete; the sewing Machine" has taken its place. We had hard, through our lady tigends of machine; as 18 at 180; 18 a Sewing Machine' has taken its place. We had heard, through our lady triends, of machines that would effect, sew, hem, and of one that could make a perfect button-hole in a garment. We had supposed that perfection ind almost been resched, knowing that these instruments performed all the necessities in sewing. But it seems they still had the "accomplishments" to learn. We are led to make these remarks, having recently sear some ladles' clocks cuborately embroidered with this sewing machine. The work seemed to excel anything executed by hand labor Besides being more rapidly and cheaply executed, the work has a more regular, and consequently a much more beautiful appearance. What I is most remarkable about this novelty is, that the machine which executes this worderful workmansatip is the most perfect in abother respects—the embroidering quality being a series of the second of the controlled of the second of the controlled of the controlled of the second of the controlled o other respects—the embroidering quality being only an addition to its many other abilities of stitching, hemming, &c. Those of our lady readers who wish to view the instrument on

The Lauisville Democrat, which advo ates a cossulou of the war unless the administration changes its policy, say:
"The white man is demonstrately his luca pacity for self-government." "The white mains made the experiment of free government, and now it looks very much like a failure." We are not surprised that disloyatly and doubts, as to the ability of man to govern himself, should go tegether.—[Nach, Union.

[Special to the New York Tribune.] NEWBERN, April 22. Newbern, April 22.

The rebel force which for nearly three weeks had invested Washington suddenly departed on the night of the 15th.

Ger. Foster was preparing an expedition across the country for the relief of the belenguered town when the news of the departure of the rebel Gen. Hill, with his entire command, reached here. Preparations were immediately made to follow up the rebel forces.

A march from Newbern to Washingtou re-vealed the fact, however, that only a small force of rebel cavalry remained within reach of Foster's command.

Two hundred rebel cavalry were charged by 70 men of the Third New York cavalry, a few miles distant from Washington, on Saturday morning last. The rebels were routed and field en masse. A rebel Captain Richardson was made a prisoner, with several of his men; their battle flag was also captured and is now in possession of the Third New York

OLIVER LUCAS, Clerk. The New York World does up the Washington Chronicle in the following neat paragraphs:

This following "clegant extract" is from the Washington Chroniele, a journal published by morey obtained illicitly from the United States treasury, and which is supposed to reflect the opicions of the Administration:

"Whether General Halleck intended to refer to these 'copperheads' in bis allusion to the 'enesking traitors in the North,' the phrase so distasteful to the Istelligencer and its 'able Democratic contemporary,' the treasonable New York World, is a question easily solved. The Intelligencer thicks his aliusion was to 'snakes,' while the gallant General distinctly uses the word 'sneak.' In three troublous times we have various kinds of traiters: the snake, which, like the New York World, strikes holdly at the heart of the nation, and daily infuses its toison into the body politic, and the sneak, which hates the Government as bitterly, and sympathizes as carnestly with the enemy, and yet glosses over both with a show of propriety and dignity that would be anualing if it were not hurtful to the constraint of the snake' to the 'sneak'. While the Administration was about it they The following "clegant extract" is from th bursts of elequence for which he was so celebrated in his own day, he tells the people of above all libertles." Thus, more than two cotemporarles in Congress: From the army we learn that the continued raise have swothen the rivers and small steams, and that even the brooks are unfordable. The difficulty of transporting supplies as greatly increased, and in some instances rendered almost insurmountable.

The case of the Peternoff and mails is still under consideration. The majority of the Cablust are understood to disapprove of the course finally pursued, holding that the Excentive as a whole has no right to interfere with the administration of instice, and transportants in Congress:

I thank lieuwen that no such a body of men as the last Congress can meet again until the trumped of the Archangel shall summon all the friends of despotlem, siders of tyranny and enemies of liberty—that have ever polluted the face of the earth with their presence, to answer before an all-wise and just God for their black crimes, and receive the punishment due their terrible guilt.

A scane in the Var Office,—The War Demettment was made drawpaged.

ecative as a whole has no right to interfere with the administration of justice, and that the Attorney General is the sole authorized channel of communication between ft and the Judiciary. It is well known that the Attorney General has in an eaborate opinion heretofore majutained that the Executive, Legislative and Judicial departments of the Government are co-ordinate.
